Filo62: how ZDHC enhances Traceability and Data Transparency

The Roadmap to Zero program by ZDHC supports companies in the textile supply chain with advanced digital tools, such as the Chemical Module and the Wastewater Module in the ZDHC Gateway, to monitor the use of chemicals along the supply chain.

These tools enable the transparent collection and management of data, ensuring compliance with European regulations and keeping up with legislative developments, particularly in the area of the CSRD (Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive).

Indeed, companies can improve their sustainability practices through data traceability and sustainable chemicals management, reduce the risk of sanctions, and enhance their reputation.

At the 62nd edition of Filo, within the Dialoghi di Confronto, Elisa Gavazza (Southern European Director ZDHC) and Marta Simonetti (European Regional Manager ZDHC) will give the details about tools made available to companies by ZDHC in the talk entitled “Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive: ZDHC’s contribution to improving data transparency and traceability”.

The appointment is at the Allianz MiCo - Milano Convention Centre, Filo Networking Area
