Filo63: The beauty of nature printed on natural fabrics

Natural fabrics, printed with the ancient technique of botanical printing and created to be unique. Therefore, unrepeatable. Created with fine silks to be soft scarves, ideal for the natural touch for a careful and nature-loving bride. Or linen can become the perfect curtain in a house where the passion for nature and plants reigns over everything. Printed cotton is the perfect detail for cushions, wall panels, paintings.

This is not a daydream, but the reality of Flower Power, born in 2003 as flower crafts.

As part of the “Dialoghi di Confronto” of the 63rd edition of Filo, Monica Aghemo (owner of Flower Power) and Roberta Aghemo (communications and press office) will talk about this very special project, in the talk entitled “The beauty of nature printed on natural fibers. Always unique in their varieties”.
